SMART HANDS

THINKERS, MAKERS & CREATIVE EDUCATORS

Come and learn about creativity and circular craftsmanship in education

Join us!

December 6th, we wrap up two creative Erasmus projects in which 'creativity' is the common denominator. Are you a teacher and do you want to learn hands-on ways to get culture into your classroom? Or do you want to learn about creative ways to work more interdisciplinary? Or maybe you are an artist, craftsman or cultural organisation and you want to work (closer) together with schools? Come join us and dig into the free learning materials and toolkits we prepared for you.

When and where?

December 6th, bibliotheek/library Muntpunt 6, 1000 Brussels

About the projects

Culture United is a European project that utilizes cultural events and heritage festivals as a driver to embed multidisciplinary ways of teaching in primary schools.

The context behind our project initiative is to appeal to the interests and natural enthusiasm of children and to use this effectively in an interactive and engaging way to learn and be inspired.

We are schools and organizations from different countries who work together on regional cultural events and heritage festivals. We share the ambition to inspire children and teach them why cultural heritage is important and make them feel part of it.

Smart Hands is a European project based on education focused on training skilled and circular thinkers and makers. We aim to create a recommitment to the vocational arts, in education and in life.

Students learn to follow the path of their tendency and talent, rather than banish everyone to a college prep tract. By challenging students to take their time, perform trial & error activities, we teach them to be clever and crafty.

Our ambition is to educate skills in a cross-subject manner to create context for students. The combination of alpha, beta and gamma subjects in one task challenges students to be more exploring, creative, ingenious and inventive.
